

My Dear Students

Assalam-o-Alaikum

I hope you are all doing well and keeping safe.

We are in the blessed month of Ramadan and are fortunate to enjoy the blessings of this month again in our lives, Alhamdulillah. Ramadan is not only about refraining from eating or drinking during the day; it is also about being at our best in conduct and actions. Refraining from anything unworthy of a good practicing Muslim and spreading goodness around is the true essence of this Holy month. May Allah SWT make this Ramadan a month of guidance and reward for all of us, and may Allah SWT bless us to get the best out of it and help us continue the good habits for the rest of the year. Ameen.

The first "Ashara" of "Rahma" is over, and we are entering the second "Ashara" of "Maghfira" as your exams begin. These exams have special significance in your lives, perhaps even one of the most important exams of your lives. These exams reflect a sense of pride and trust by your school in its students and allow you to demonstrate honesty, integrity, and self-esteem.

I am confident that all of my students will attempt their papers with utmost honesty. Your honesty in these exams will be the reward for your teachers' efforts and will always remain a sense of pride for me. I know there will be no invigilator in your exams, but I also know that my students are true followers of the "Al-Sadiq-Al-Ameen SAW." For all of us at your school, the most valuable outcome of these exams will not be your grades only but the integrity and honesty that you will exhibit during your exams.

Please always remember, honesty is not the best policy; it is the only policy.

I wish all of you the best in your exams with this reminder that let this exam be the true reflection of "Ibad-ur-Rahman."

I end my letter with two quotes.

The Japanese say, "you have three faces. The first face you show to the world. The second face, you show to your close friends and your family. The third face, you never show anyone." This third face is when you are alone, and that is the most accurate reflection of who you are.

Allah SWT says in Surah Hadid, ayah no: 4

"and He is with you wherever you are. And Allah, of what you do, is Seeing."

May Allah SWT bless you and guide you towards the true path and grant you success in this life and the life hereafter. Ameen

JazakAllah
